MISS MAUD STOUT's dancing school will open to-night at 8 o'clock at the Odd Fellows' Hall.

CHICAGO's vital statistics show that the number of June marriages reaches an unprecedented total. There has been grave editorial discussion as to whether this most gratifying condition is not largely attributable to the influence of "Lovers' Lane," the pastoral love story by Clyde Fitch, which is nearing its third month at McVicker's. "Lovers' Lane" will appear at the Grand in this city early in the season.

This alarm of fire from box 12 yesterday afternoon at 5:30 was caused by the burning of the two-story frame residence of Mrs. Wm. Mitchell, in East Paris. It originated from a defective flue in the kitchen, and on account of the long distance to the alarm box, got considerable of a start before the arrival of the department. The entire rear of the house and part of the roof was burned. Considerable of the household effects were saved. The fire department, unusual, did excellent service. The loss will be about $600, covered by insurance.

Through the medium of the Champion Chemical Engine the firemen were enabled to confine the fire to the roof and rear of the house, and thereby save the furniture which would have otherwise been damaged by the water. The chemical engine is one of the best investments ever made by the city, and proves its value at every fire.

To Succeed Mr. Yerkes.

Some of the former patrons of Mr. Yerkes' school are still deliberating over the choice of a successor, while the teachers are unwilling to leave their present stations and come to Paris without a guarantee of sufficient patronage. All realize that no one could step wholly into the high esteem in which Mr. Yerkes is held by the people hereabouts. His place in our hearts is secure.

But why should there be any anxiety among these patrons? There are many, too many schools in Paris already, and the cause of education demands fewer instead of more schools. True and far-seeing economy advises a consolidation of the various interests. Besides the Public Schools Paris might possibly support two good private schools—one for girls and one for boys. But the movement most needed now is for consolidation.

The general welfare demands that all should unite in the upbuilding of the great system of Public Schools. Let all classes patronize the High School and make it better each year. Give it a fair trial and you will know that it is worthy of your patronage and loyal support.

It is a mistaken notion of charity to stint your child's education in order that you may assist some needy teacher who may be a friend of the family. The Public School is the best and we all believe that "for our children the best alone is good enough."

Are Paris People Easy.

Paris people are either the most liberal and best hearted people on earth, or the biggest "suckers." Every fake advertising scheme that comes around invariably catches them, and not only once, but year after year. A stranger with a bold front has a far better chance in Paris than the modest young man who has been living here all his life.

A smooth article struck the town about four months ago. He was acting in some capacity for the East Tennessee Telephone Company. He soon made himself known, and being a good talker and "mixer" he was immediately taken up by the "easy" set. One day last week he skipped out, leaving bills behind him from five cents to one hundred dollars. Almost everyone in town was "touched" to a certain extent. It is said to be even "borrowed" one dollar and fifty cents from one of the young lady operators at the exchange.

Masons Visit North Middletown.

About twenty-five of the members of Paris Lodge No. 2, F. & A. M., went over to North Middletown on Wednesday night to witness the conferring of the Master Mason degree on two of their members, Messrs. Quincy Ward and Dr. John Sweeney, by Washington Lodge. Eleven of the party drove over in Davis' furniture wagon. On their arrival the visiting brethren were treated to an elegant supper by the North Middletown brethren, to which it is unnecessary to say, they did ample justice. Spring chicken, country ham, hot biscuits, etc., were served in bountiful profusion. The ride of ten miles had sharpened their appetites, and some of the brethren were loath to leave the table. After Dr. Usery had called for his third chicken, the Hon. John Smith, who was seated by his side, exclaimed: "Doc, it looks to me as though you have a fowl stomach."

After the supper the degree was conferred in beautiful style, and the boys left for home at 12 o'clock, after voting the North Middletown people to be royal entertainers.

Meeting of City Council.

At the meeting of the City Council last night very little business of importance was transacted. The gentlemen who were going to apply for a franchise to run the Fayett's Telephone Company into Paris failed to make their appearance.

Jude Webb reported $347 in fines for month of June.

Two fire plugs were ordered put in, one on Convent heights and one on Brent avenue.

An electric light was ordered put up in East Paris.

R. B. Hatcher was granted permission to erect a four-story brick warehouse on Pleasant street, between Second and Third.

A Pleasant Party

One of the most pleasant children's party of the summer was that given by Miss Helen Tarr to her young friends at her home with Mrs. Johnson, on Stoner avenue, last Tuesday evening from 7 to 10. There were about sixty-five present, and a merry time was had with various amusements, gipsy tent for telling fortunes, a peanut hunt, in which Miss Florence Lockhart won the prize of a box of candy. Dancing and music throughout the evening was indulged in by the young folks, and refreshments were served, a delightful luncheon winding up the pleasures of the evening.

FOR SALE.—One National Cash Register. Address Lock box 53, Paris, Ky.

A Peculiar Accident.

A drove of more than seventy-five head of cattle being driven to Louisville by Frank McKinley and Tolbert Dooley, were frightened and stampeded by a passing train, near Riceville. The whole drove rushed over a cliff sixty feet high. The animals which were not killed outright by the fall, had to be killed on account of broken limbs.

CALL for the Stoner cigar. Union made.

Camp Meeting at High Bridge July 20th-28th.

Reduced rates as usual from Queen & Crescent points. Sunday excursion and special train service. Great attractions at High Bridge this year. Don't fail to go. Ask ticket agent for particulars. W. C. RINEBAUGH, G. P. A.

Mr. Fasig Dying.

W. B. Fasig, the well known horseman, is dying of droupy and heart trouble at his summer home in Putnam, county, N. Y.

Mr. Fasig is the partner of Ed A. Tipton, of this city, in the Fasig-Tipton Co., which conducts the great horse sales.

A Big Undertaking.

The work of cutting out the tunnel on the Maysville branch of the L. & N. railroad near Carlisle was begun Monday with a force of 300 men. The tunnel is about 1,000 feet in length and for a long time has been considered unsafe. It will take about three months to complete the job.

Matrimonial.

Miss Flora Samuels and Mr. Oliver Hughart, of Mt. Sterling, eloped to Louisville Wednesday and were married.

Mr. Hughart is Treasurer of Licking Valley Railroad and Oneonta Lumber Works and Miss Samuels is a beauty and singer and is well known and much admired in Paris.

Mr. Dan Jordan and Miss Mary Holeran, both of this city, were married in Carlisle Tuesday by Rev. Father Hickey.

Mr. Jordan is the accommodating baggage agent of the L. & N. in this city, and is a popular young man. Miss Holeran is a pleasant and attractive young lady, who is much admired by her many friends. They returned to this city on Wednesday night.

Quite a surprise was occasioned by the announcement of the marriage on April 29th, 1900, of Mr. J. J. Hardy and Miss Allene G. Sharron. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Mitchell at the Eleventh Street Methodist Church in Covington, Ky.

Mr. Hardy is in the employ of the L. & N. railroad, being on tour between Paris and Richmond, and is very popular with every one of his acquaintances. The bride is a daughter of the late Allen Sharron. Mr. Hardy and wife will reside in Richmond, where they will go to housekeeping.

Rev. E. G. B. Mann, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, at Nicholasville, was married Tuesday to Miss Ida Mae Friend, of Irvine, by the Revs. J. R. Peebles and C. L. Bohon.

The Same Old Steer.

The celebrated Norris-Nolan steer case came up again at Richmond last week. This case has been in the courts for years. It has been tried several times in Madison and Jessamine counties, and is now sent back from the Circuit Court for rehearing. The steer in question was valued at $31; the costs in the case to date amount to nearly $1,000.

Capital Stock $200,000.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the Secretary of State yesterday by the Georgetown Water, Gas and Electric Power Company with a capital stock of $200,000.

Stock And Crop.

CARLEISLE COURT.—A very small crowd in town. The market on all kinds of stock, excepting hogs, was extremely dull. No good cattle offered. About 150 head of low grade cattle on the market, but few of them sold, prices obtained were very unsatisfactory to sellers. One lot of scrub heifers sold for $16.55, the best sale of the day. Calves brought from $10 to $18. A few dry cows sold at $15 to $28. The usual number of plug horses were on the streets, but few changed jockies.—Mercury.

The July report of Commissioner of Agriculture I. B. Nall, issued yesterday shows that the wheat crop of Kentucky will be 21 per cent. below the average, owing to the ravages of the Hessian fly. Corn will give 88 per cent. of the average crop and oats 90 per cent. The tobacco crop will be 20 per cent. below the average, while apples will give over 60 per cent. of the usual crop.

James L. Connell, of Carlisle, sold to Cateby Woodford, of this city, a pair of fine coach horses for $735.

A dispatch says the wheat crops of Woodford, Scott and Fayette counties are threatened with serious injury because of a strike of negro field hands.

A sale was made of 1,000 bushels of new wheat at Danville at 60c a bushel.

W. S. Fant, the Nepton miller, sold 14,000 bushels of his surplus stock of old wheat at 70c and 72c, to Cincinnati parties.

JUDGE COCHRAN, of the Federal Court at Covington, has divided the Eastern Kentucky District into thirteen bankruptcy districts. Judge H. C. Howard was appointed referee for this district.

There will be a regular meeting of Paris Chapter, No. 15, this evening at 7:30 o'clock, for work in the Mark Master and Past Master Degrees. A full attendance is requested.

Miss Mattie Boyd Answers Judge Howard.

Miss Mattie E. Boyd, the postmaster at Centerville, who it was claimed was about to be deprived of her position to make room for one J. C. Montgomery, a hungry Republican, publishes a lengthy card in yesterday's Lexington Democrat. In a recent issue of the Democrat Judge H. Clay Howard, of this city, published an article explaining his connection with the case, and saying the patrons of the Centerville office were dissatisfied with Miss Boyd on account of her way of running the office. In reply Miss Boyd publishes the following:

EDITOR OF THE DEMOCRAT.—I notice in Sunday's issue of the Democrat, where "Judge H. Clay Howard, of Paris, makes a correction about the Centerville Postoffice, and its official."

Now I, like Judge Howard, am averse to getting myself in the public prints, but as Judge Howard has so misinterpreted me in his correction, I must state a few facts.

Five years ago, J. C. Montgomery, who owns a farm of 60 acres adjoining this little village of Centerville, was also keeping a country store on one corner of my land, took it in his head that he would take the postoffice from me and put it into his store room to bring him more custom. However, my friends and myself got an inkling of what was going on, and I applied to Judge George Denny, of Lexington, for advice, stating facts to him, and he gave a recommendation for life. Mr. Montgomery did not know that I knew what he had done, so I passed it by, and treated him and his family with the utmost courtesy. He has four children, and people who come to my office often, can tell you that the Montgomery children almost lived at my office. You could see from one to three most any time.

The Montgomerys went down soon after, and had to close his store and sell out at cost, or any old way, and had to leave his store-room for a term of years, for the people in this vicinity did not care to deal with a man who would try to take advantage of a crippled woman. Mr. Montgomery had been, or pretended to be a Democrat when he first moved to this little village, but he is a man who thinks better of himself than any one thinks of him, and as he did not get "hoisted" any by Democrats, I suppose he thought he would try a change.

If Mr. Montgomery or Judge H. Clay Howard, or any other person or persons, know that I never forbade access to my office, black or white, big or little. I am always ready to wait on them and treat them with the courtesy due them. Judge Howard says in the last (as it is in apology) he did not know, till some weeks after endorsing Montgomery, of my great misfortune. It is strange that Judge Howard or any one else would know so much about me and not know of my misfortune. And for the benefit of those who do not know, I will explain what he calls my great misfortune. When I was a small child, I fell under a train at Cynthiana, Ky., and it cut off both of my feet; one above and one below the knee, and I have had to go through life a helpless cripple. They only way I have to get around is to crawl on my hands and one knee. But this I do not consider the greatest misfortune. I consider it a greater misfortune when such men as Montgomery and Judge Howard would misrepresent me in such a way as they have done. If the patrons of the office were against my having the office, just like they are with Montgomery, I would send in my resignation by the first mail going out, or by telegraph. I now not only ask Judge Howard, but demand of him to put it in print, whose those others were besides Montgomery, that told such abominable lies on me. Not any reputable persons, I will wager.

Yours respectfully,
(MISS) MATTIE E. BOYD, P. M.

You Do, or You Don't Need Gasses

The eye being a rather delicate organ, great care should be exercised in the election of proper glasses. Many believe that glasses should be restored to only when the sight becomes so defective as not to be able to do without. This is a great mistake which must be combatted. Whenever there is unmistakable evidence of the need of their aid, they should be used. A neglect of this rule sometimes produces mischief which results in serious trouble if the course be persisted in.

Our Dr. C. H. BOWEN having just returned from taking a special course in Optics from one of the best specialists in New York, is prepared to do the best of work, having the latest improved methods of fitting.

Examinations free. Next visit Thursday, July 11, 1901.
